For further details, please refer to the Notice of Initiation on the public file.

Completing this form

To register to this case, you need to provide two copies of your response to this form: a confidential and a non-confidential version. Your non-confidential version should be as similar as possible to your confidential version except for the redaction of the confidential information, or in exceptional circumstances, a statement of reasons why the information could not be meaningfully summarised.

Both copies must be returned to the TRA by 19 August 2026 using the Trade Remedies Service (www.trade-remedies.service.gov.uk). If information is not supplied in a reasonable time, then the TRA will be free to make determinations on the basis of facts available.

The non-confidential version of your registration form may be placed on the public file.

It is your responsibility to ensure that the non-confidential version does not contain any confidential information, which includes personal contact information, names and signatures.

Please see the TRA's public guidance[1] for further information on providing confidential information and non-confidential summaries.

All information provided to the TRA in confidence will be treated accordingly and only used for this investigation (except in limited circumstance as permitted by regulation 17 of the Trade Remedies (Increase in Imports Causing Serious Injury to UK Producers) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019) and will be stored in protected systems. The non-confidential version of your submission will be placed on the public file.

Request to complete a detailed questionnaire

If, on the basis of the information provided in this form, we may request further information up to and including a full questionnaire, if a party submits import/export data which significantly contradicts official UK customs data.

If your company is requested to complete a full questionnaire, you will be asked to respond to the questions in the detailed questionnaire and to support the TRA in authenticating your responses. This may involve the TRA conducting a remote authentication meeting.

In failing to do so, your company may be deemed not to have cooperated in the investigation. In the absence of cooperation, the TRA will base its findings on facts available. This may result in an outcome that is less favourable to your company than if it had cooperated.

Economic Interest Test

10. Please provide all physical addresses (including postcode) of all your company's UK sites/facilities involved in the importation of PET. Please specify the number of full-time equivalents (FTE) for each of your company's UK sites or facilities.

Not applicable.

11. Please comment on how these employment figures would be affected if a safeguard measure was imposed.

Not applicable.

12. How would your domestic sales of PET be affected if a safeguard measure was imposed?

Not applicable.

13. How significant are the imports of PET relative to your company's overall volume of imports?

Not applicable.

14. Please describe how you would expect restrictions on imports of PET to affect each of the following. Where possible, please support your claims with evidence.
    - Domestic prices of PET in the UK
    - Total UK production of PET
    - Total imports of PET
    - Total exports of PET

The Government of Thailand is not a UK importer and does not hold company-level data. As a general observation for the purposes of the Economic Interest Test, a safeguard measure would be expected to raise domestic PET prices in the UK, to increase input costs for UK downstream users of PET (in particular packaging, food and beverage producers), and to reduce the range of supply available to them, while UK production capacity for PET is limited relative to UK demand. The Government of Thailand invites the TRA to examine these effects on the basis of evidence from UK importers and downstream users.

15. Do you know of any related industries that would be affected if a safeguard measure was imposed? Please consider in particular:
    - Upstream industries – those who produce inputs (such as raw materials) needed for the production of PET;
    - Downstream industries – those who purchase PET; and
    - Industries for substitute goods – those which might be bought instead of PET.

Upstream and downstream industries would both be affected. Downstream users of PET in the UK (preform and bottle converters, packaging producers, and food and beverage manufacturers) purchase PET as a primary input and have limited ability to substitute it. The Government of Thailand invites the TRA to give full weight to the effect of any measure on these industries and on final consumers.

16. To what extent would you expect any changes in prices of PET to be passed onto final consumers?

See the response to question 14 above.

17. Would your plans for investment or expansion in the UK over the next five years be affected if a safeguard measure was imposed? Please support your claims with evidence.

Not applicable.

18. How would a safeguard measure in the PET market affect the number or range of suppliers, their ability to differentiate products by price, quality, service, or innovation, and their ability to set agreed prices between themselves or for certain consumers or products?

Not applicable.

19. How would the cost of switching between suppliers in the PET market be affected if a safeguard measure was imposed? Please provide an explanation.

Not applicable.

20. If a safeguard measure was imposed, how would it affect the product choices available to consumers and the ability of downstream businesses or consumers to make informed decisions? Please provide an explanation.

Not applicable.

21. Are there any additional economic factors that you consider to be relevant for the Economic Interest Test in this investigation?

The Government of Thailand invites the TRA to take into account, in the Economic Interest Test, the limited UK production capacity for PET relative to UK demand, the reliance of UK downstream industries on imported PET (including recycled PET required to meet UK recycled-content obligations), and the effect of any measure on the cost of goods to UK consumers.

22. As a public body, the TRA has an obligation under the Equality Act 2010 to ensure that the possible effects of its activities on different people are considered. This public sector Equality Duty covers the following protected characteristics:
    - age
    - disability
    - gender reassignment
    - marriage or civil partnership
    - pregnancy and maternity
    - race
    - religion or belief
    - sex
    - sexual orientation

    Please provide any relevant information about whether the imposition of a safeguard measure might disproportionately affect any of these groups or any other particular group.

No comment at this stage.

Section B: Additional information

B1. Other known companies

We need contact information in order to notify all other known companies who may be interested in taking part in the investigation and making their views known.

B1.1 Exporters, importers, and UK producers

1. Please provide contact details of any other known exporters and importers of the goods concerned and UK producers of the goods that are like the goods concerned (the UK like goods) or directly competitive with the goods concerned (UK directly competitive goods) in the table below.

Activities (exporter / importer / UK producer	Company name	Contact details (email)	Location(s) (if info is available)

+Add additional rows as required

Consider redacting this information in your non-confidential version of this form, in accordance with our guidance.

B1.2 Upstream and downstream companies

1. Please provide contact details for UK companies from whom you purchase materials used to make the like goods (upstream companies) and UK companies who purchase the like goods from you (downstream companies) to help us obtain a more complete picture of the potential effects of a measure.

   You are not obligated to provide this information but we will use any details you provide to get in touch with these companies and improve our understanding of the impacts of any potential measure.

Activities (upstream / downstream)	Company name	Contact details (email)	Location(s) (if info is available)

+Add additional rows as required

Consider redacting this information in your non-confidential version of this form, in accordance with our guidance.

B1.3 Any other companies

1. Please provide a list of any other known companies, including the nature of their company and any associations with other companies.

   This may include, for example, companies that are involved in the importation, distribution, or sale of goods that are like the goods concerned from third countries.

The Government of Thailand does not maintain lists of UK importers, UK producers or UK downstream users of the goods concerned. Thai producers and exporters of PET have been informed of the initiation of this investigation and of the registration requirements, and will register with the TRA in their own right where they consider it appropriate.

B2. Goods

1. If you consider that the description of the goods concerned for the investigation should be varied, please specify the suggested changes and provide your reasons in the field below.

The Government of Thailand has no proposed variation to the description of the goods concerned at this stage, and reserves the right to comment further once the TRA has set out its assessment of the goods concerned and of the UK like or directly competitive goods. In particular, we invite the TRA to examine whether virgin PET (vPET) and recycled PET (rPET) should properly be treated as a single category of goods concerned, given the differences in raw materials, production processes, cost structures, supply conditions and regulatory drivers of demand.

2. Indicate in the box below any physical, commercial or functional differences between the goods concerned and the goods that are like or directly competitive with the goods concerned.

vPET and rPET are produced from different inputs by different processes, are not fully interchangeable across all applications, and face different demand drivers – in particular, demand for rPET in the UK is driven substantially by recycled-content obligations rather than by price competition with vPET. These differences are relevant both to the definition of the goods concerned and to the assessment of like or directly competitive goods, and to any injury and causation analysis carried out on a product-type basis.

B3. Investigation

1. Can you comment on the allegations of increased quantities of imports of the goods concerned to the UK during the POI.

The Government of Thailand invites the TRA to satisfy itself, on the basis of official UK customs data disaggregated by commodity code (3907 6100 and 3907 6900), by country of origin and by product type (vPET and rPET), that the legal conditions for a safeguard measure are met, namely:

(a) that imports have increased in absolute terms or relative to UK production, and that any such increase is recent, sudden, sharp and significant enough to cause or threaten serious injury; and
(b) that the increase is the result of unforeseen developments and of the effect of obligations incurred under the GATT 1994, as required by Article XIX:1(a) of the GATT 1994.
We note that the period of investigation extends over five years (2021 to 2025) and includes the period affected by the COVID-19 pandemic and the subsequent energy price shock. Import trends over such a period should not be assessed only by comparing the first and last years; the most recent trends are the relevant ones.

2. Aside from the alleged increased quantity of imports of the goods concerned to the UK, please provide any details of any other factors that could have resulted in the alleged serious injury to the UK producers of the goods, for example:
   - Contraction in demand or changes in patterns of consumption;
   - Restrictive trade practices of, and competition between, third country and UK producers;
   - Environmental regulations and commitments;
   - Developments in technology; and
   - Export performance and the productivity of the UK.

The Government of Thailand considers that a number of factors other than imports may explain the condition of the UK industry, and that the TRA is required to ensure that injury caused by such factors is not attributed to imports. We invite the TRA to examine in particular: (a) demand conditions in the UK market, including any contraction in demand and changes in patterns of consumption for PET packaging; (b) energy and feedstock cost increases affecting UK and European PET production from 2022 onwards, and the resulting change in the relative cost position of UK producers; (c) regulatory and environmental developments, including the UK Plastic Packaging Tax and recycled-content requirements, which have shifted demand between vPET and rPET independently of import competition; (d) global overcapacity in PET production and the trade-diverting effect of trade remedy measures maintained by other jurisdictions, which is not attributable to Thailand; (e) the export performance, investment decisions, capacity utilisation and productivity of the UK producers themselves; and (f) competition between UK producers and imports from third countries not subject to this investigation.

3. Please provide comments on any aspect(s) of the investigation that you think pertinent as part of the case team's assessment. Specifically, you may wish to comment on:
   - The UK and / or global market for the goods concerned; and
   - The impact of any potential safeguard measure upon the UK market including prices for the goods concerned, and for future exports of the goods concerned to the UK.

The Government of Thailand wishes to make the following observations: 1. Global and UK market. The UK is a structural net importer of PET, with domestic production capacity well below domestic demand. Imports therefore serve a supply function that UK production cannot replace in the short term. 2. Effect of a measure. A safeguard measure would raise PET prices in the UK market and increase input costs for UK downstream users, in particular packaging converters and food and beverage producers, with those costs ultimately passed to UK consumers. Any measure would also restrict access to recycled PET needed by UK users to meet recycled-content obligations. 3. Developing country exemption. Thailand is a developing country Member of the WTO. The Government of Thailand requests that the TRA apply the developing country exemption in accordance with Article 9.1 of the WTO Agreement on Safeguards and the corresponding UK provisions, and that it confirm the import shares on which it relies for that assessment.

4. Form and duration of any measure. Should the TRA nevertheless recommend a measure, the Government of Thailand requests that it be applied only to the extent necessary to prevent or remedy serious injury and to facilitate adjustment, and that the TRA publish the basis on which any quota volumes, quota allocation between countries, and tariff rates are calculated.

B4. Other comments

1. Please use the field below to provide additional information that you consider relevant to this investigation.

The Government of Thailand requests the following: 1. That the TRA confirm receipt of this registration and the registration of the Government of Thailand as an interested party in case SG0094. 2. That the Government of Thailand be given adequate opportunity for consultations in accordance with Article 12.3 of the WTO Agreement on Safeguards, and that it be notified of the relevant WTO notifications made in respect of this investigation. 3. That the Government of Thailand be notified of the publication of the Statement of Essential Facts and of any hearings, and be given the opportunity to comment and to attend. 4. That non-confidential summaries of confidential submissions placed on the public file are sufficient to permit a reasonable understanding of the substance of the information submitted. The Government of Thailand reserves the right to supplement these comments, and to submit further evidence and argument, at each stage of the investigation. This form is submitted as a non-confidential document and may be placed on the public file. It contains no confidential information.
