SNORKEL EUROPE LIMITED

STRATEGIC REPORT

Snorkel Europe Ltd ("Snorkel") is the European component of Snorkel Group ("The Group") a manufacturer and distributor of Powered Access Platforms. Snorkel markets its products under the well known Snorkel brand.

The controlling interest in Snorkel is held by Xtreme Manufacturing LLC ("Xtreme"). Since acquisition, in October 2013, Xtreme have invested heavily in Snorkel and Xtreme have indicated that they will continue to invest any necessary working capital into Snorkel to fund its growth back to revenue levels consistently above its breakeven point.

The Company uses a variety of financial and non-financial measures to monitor performance with the principal measures detailed below.

Sales and Profitability

	2023 £000's	2022 £000's	Change %
Revenue	47,527	42,564	12%
Profit (Loss) from continuing operations (Reported)*	1,491	(2,667)	156%
EBITDA*	2,459	(1,740)	241%
EBITDA (Internal operational measure)	1,066	(1,096)	197%
Average Headcount	222	216	3%

* Stated before tax, interest and exceptional items, such as related party forgiveness.

 The internal measure of underlying operational profitability for comparative purposes excludes IFRS16 changes, Marketing costs, Bad debts and currency movements. Source: Management accounts.

In 2023 the Company saw strong year on year growth in sales and profitability with post Covid-19 supply chain challenges easing and Global freight costs dropping significantly in the reporting period.

For the full year 2023, Snorkel posted an increase in year on year Sales revenues of 12% and continue to see strong demand for all our product ranges. Our reported EBITDA* came in at a profit of £2.5m, versus a loss for the previous year of £1.7m, with the Company spending approximately £3.0m less on inbound freight costs year on year. Whilst we expect these trends to continue into 2024 Global inflationary pressures along with geo-political issues are risks that are being monitored and managed where possible.

To deliver its strategy, Snorkel is reliant on continued sales demand within its end markets, the pricing levels in those markets and the continued performance of its supply chain. These markets have been cyclical, and future performance in those markets is uncertain.

Working capital

	2023 £000's	2022 £000's	Change %
Cash	1,566	515	204%
Capital Expenditure (including intangibles)	764	320	139%
Payables days	77	94	18%
Receivables days	45	53	15%

In May 2023, the Asset Based Lending Facility was not renewed. Given the increasing interest rates and deposit/borrowing rates, the ultimate controlling party of Xtreme Manufacturing LLC, Don Ahern, chose to lend the Group sufficient funds through a related party to repay the outstanding facility to lender JPMorgan Chase. All financial covenants relating to the JPM Credit Line expired at the same time as the loan was paid off. There are no covenants at the date of issue of these financial statements.

At the settlement date the Group repaid approximately $34.2m of which Snorkel Europe Limited's share was approximately $11.4m.

Non financial measures

The Company also measures and monitors various non financial measures linked to the overall customer experience which includes on-time delivery and quality performance. The Company has performed extremely well against its internal targets within these areas during 2023.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

TO THE MEMBERS OF SNORKEL EUROPE LIMITED

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Snorkel Europe Limited for the year ended 31 December 2023 set out on pages 12 to 28. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and UK adopted International reporting standards.

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs as at 31 December 2023 and of its profit for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with UK adopted International reporting standards; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the directors with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The directors are responsible for the other information contained in the annual report. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of directors' remuneration specified by law are not made; or

Responsibilities of directors

As explained more fully in the Statement of Directors' Responsibilities set out on page 8, the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud, is detailed below.

Capability of the audit in detecting irregularities, including fraud

Discussions with and enquiries of management and those charged with governance were held with a view to identifying those laws and regulations that could be expected to have a material impact on the financial statements. During the engagement team briefing, the outcomes of these discussions and enquiries were shared with the team, as well as consideration as to where and how fraud may occur in the entity.

The following laws and regulations were identified as being of significance to the entity:

- Those laws and regulations considered to have a direct effect on the financial statements including UK financial reporting standards, Company Law, Tax and Pensions legislation, and distributable profits legislation.
- Those laws and regulations for which non-compliance may be fundamental to the operating aspects of the business and therefore may have a material effect on the financial statements include the product safety and health & safety regulations.

Audit procedures undertaken in response to the potential risks relating to irregularities (which include fraud and non-compliance with laws and regulations) comprised of: inquiries of management and those charged with governance as to whether the entity complies with such laws and regulations; enquiries with the same concerning any actual or potential litigation or claims; inspection of relevant legal correspondence; testing the appropriateness of journal entries; and the performance of analytical review to identify unexpected movements in account balances which may be indicative of fraud.

No instances of material non-compliance were identified. However, the likelihood of detecting irregularities, including fraud, is limited by the inherent difficulty in detecting irregularities, the effectiveness of the entity's controls, and the nature, timing and extent of the audit procedures performed. Irregularities that result from fraud might be inherently more difficult to detect than irregularities that result from error. As explained above, there is an unavoidable risk that material misstatements may not be detected, even though the audit has been planned and performed in accordance with ISAs (UK).

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at:

<http://www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities>. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(i) Basis of preparation of the financial statements

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with UK adopted International reporting standards and the requirements of the Companies Act applicable to companies reporting under IFRS.

The financial statements have been prepared under the historic cost convention.

(ii) Going concern

The financial statements have been prepared on the going concern basis. The directors have a reasonable expectation that the Company has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future given the improved financial performance of the Company during the year and post year end.

The directors have prepared forecasts for a period up to twelve months from the date of approval of these financial statements which demonstrate that the Company will have sufficient resources to continue as a going concern. The Company also has the continued support of the parent company, Xtreme Manufacturing LLC, Group and ultimate controlling party, if additional support were required. The directors have concluded that the use of the going concern assumption is appropriate in preparing these financial statements and accordingly, they continue to prepare the Company's financial statements on a going concern basis.

(iii) Revenue

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable and represents amounts receivable for goods provided in the normal course of business, net of discounts, VAT and other sales related taxes.

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when goods are delivered to or collected by the customer and title has passed.

(iv) Leases

Leases are recognized, measured and presented in line with IFRS 16 'Leases'. At inception, the company assesses whether a contract is, or contains, a lease within the scope of IFRS 16. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. Where a tangible asset is acquired through a lease, the company recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date plus any initial direct costs and an estimate of the cost of obligations to dismantle, remove, refurbish or restore the underlying asset and the site on which it is located, less any lease incentives received.

The right-of-use asset is subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of other property, plant and equipment. The right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, and adjusted for certain remeasurements of the lease liability.

The lease liability is measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, initially at the present value of the lease payments that are unpaid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, the company's incremental borrowing rate.

The company has elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for short-term leases of machinery that have a lease term of 12 months or less, or for leases of low-value assets including IT equipment. The payments associated with these leases are recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(v) Foreign currencies

Transactions in currencies other than sterling, the presentational and functional currency of the Company, are recorded at the rates of exchange prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At each balance sheet date, monetary assets and liabilities that are denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing on the balance sheet date.

Non-monetary assets and liabilities carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rates prevailing at the date when the fair value was determined. Gains and losses arising on retranslation are included in the statement of comprehensive income for the period.

(vi) Intangible assets

Identifiable intangible assets are recognised when the Company controls the asset, it is probable that future economic benefits attributable to the asset will flow to the Company and the cost of the asset can be reliably measured. All intangible assets, other than Goodwill, are amortised over their useful economic life.

Computer Software

Computer software comprises computer software purchased from third parties and is carried at cost less accumulated amortisation.

Manufacturing schedules and other intangibles

Manufacturing schedules and other intangible assets have been brought in on the acquisition of businesses and capitalised at a fair value. The intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation.

Estimated useful economic lives

The estimated useful economic lives assigned to the principal categories of intangible assets are as follows:

- Computer software 5 years
- Other intangible assets 5 to 10 years

SNORKEL EUROPE LIMITED

(vii) Research and development

Research expenditure is recognised as an expense in the period in which it is incurred.

Development expenditure is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income in the period in which it is incurred unless it is probable that economic benefits will flow to the Company from the asset being developed, the cost of the asset can be reliably measured and technical feasibility can be demonstrated.

Internally-generated intangible assets are amortised on a straight-line basis over their useful lives (10 to 15 years).

(viii) Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost comprises direct materials and, where applicable, direct labour costs and those overheads that have been incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location

Assets held under finance leases are depreciated over their expected useful lives on the same basis as owned assets or, where shorter, the term of the relevant lease.

(ix) Asset Impairment

At each balance sheet date, the Company reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss. Where the asset does not generate cash flows that are independent from other assets, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. An intangible asset with an indefinite useful life is tested for impairment annually and whenever there is an indication that the asset may be impaired.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised as an expense immediately, unless the relevant asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the impairment loss is treated as a revaluation decrease.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised as income immediately, unless the relevant asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the reversal of the impairment loss is treated as a revaluation increase.

(x) Plant, property and equipment

Plant, property and equipment is included in the balance sheet at historical cost, less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses.

On disposal of property, plant and equipment, the difference between sales proceeds and the net book value at the date of disposal is recorded in the statement of comprehensive income.

Depreciation

Depreciation is charged so as to write off the cost of assets over their estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method, on the following bases:

• Plant and Machinery	3- 10 years
• Leasehold land and buildings	over the lifetime of the lease
• Fixtures, fittings and equipment	3- 10 years
• Motor Vehicles	3- 5 years

(xi) Borrowing costs

All borrowing costs are expensed in the statement of comprehensive income in the period in which they are incurred.

(xii) Financial instruments

Recognition of financial assets and financial liabilities

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised on the Company's balance sheet when the Company has become a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial assets

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market.

Trade and other receivables

Financial assets within Trade and other receivables are initially recognised at fair value, which is usually the original invoiced amount and are subsequently carried at fair value less provisions made for doubtful receivables.

Provisions are made specifically where there is evidence of a risk of non-payment, taking into account ageing, previous losses experienced and general economic conditions.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand less short term bank overdrafts.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities and equity

Financial liabilities and equity instruments are classified

according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into. An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the company after deducting all of its liabilities.

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares are shown in equity as a deduction from the proceeds received.

Trade and other payables

Financial liabilities within trade and other payables are initially recorded at fair value, which is usually the original invoiced amount, and subsequently carried at historical cost.

Loans and other borrowings

Loans and other borrowings are initially recognised at fair value plus directly attributable transaction costs and are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

(xiii) Post retirement benefits

The Company operates a defined contribution scheme which is administered by an independent trustee. The Company contributions are charged to the statement of comprehensive income as they are incurred

(xiv) Taxation

The tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from net profit as reported in the statement of comprehensive income because it excludes items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and it further excludes items that are never taxable or deductible. The Company's liability for current tax is calculated by using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax is the tax expected to be payable or recoverable on differences between the carrying amount of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit, and is accounted for using the balance sheet liability method. Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences and deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from goodwill or from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of other assets and liabilities in a transaction which affects neither the tax profit nor the accounting profit.

Deferred tax is calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled. Deferred tax is charged or credited in the statement of comprehensive income, except when it relates to items credited or charged directly to equity, in which case the deferred tax is also dealt with in equity.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

(xv) Termination benefits

Termination benefits (leaver costs) are payable when employment is terminated before the normal retirement date, or when an employee accepts voluntary redundancy in exchange for these benefits. The Company recognises termination benefits when it is demonstrably committed to the affected employees leaving the Company.

(xvi) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amount can be reliably estimated.

(xvii) Investments

Investments are included at cost less amounts written off.

(xviii) Grants

Government grants are recognised when there is reasonable assurance that the grant conditions will be met and the grants will be received.

Critical accounting estimates and key judgements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires the use of accounting estimates and assumptions. It also requires management to exercise judgement in the process of applying the Company's accounting policies. We continually evaluate our estimates, assumptions and judgements based on the most up to date information available.

The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are discussed below.

Intangible assets

Amortisation of intangible assets is charged to the statement of comprehensive income on a straight line basis over the useful economic lives of each intangible asset. The Directors review the assumptions made at the time of acquisitions in the light of current evidence in the market, and estimated useful economic lives and revisited the carrying value of each intangible asset. Significant changes in the carrying values assessed are charged through the statement of comprehensive income as an impairment.

Trade receivables

The Company regularly assesses the recoverability of its trade receivables based on a range of factors including the age of the receivable, creditworthiness of the customer, any credits required to release payments, and changes in that customer's access to credit to fund their purchases. When determining the recoverability of an account the Company makes estimations as to the financial condition of each customer, their importance in providing a route to market, any debt collection strategy in place and their ability to subsequently make payment or provide other future revenue benefits.

Inventories

In accordance with IAS2 the Company regularly reviews its inventory to ensure it is carried at the lower of cost or net

realisable value. The management constantly reviews slow moving and obsolete items arising from changes in the product mix demanded by customers, reductions in overall volumes, supplier failures and strategic resourcing decisions.

Obsolescence provisions are calculated based on current market values and future sales of inventories. In situations where market demand changes, significantly altering production volumes, inventories are reviewed to ensure that components have a realistic likelihood of being used in current models in a reasonable timeframe. If this review identifies significant levels of obsolete inventory, this obsolescence is charged to the statement of comprehensive income as an impairment.

Warranty Provision

The Company has reviewed the warranties that it has offered with the sales of its equipment, and has established a warranty provision to cover the estimated future warranty costs of products sold over the remaining life of the warranty. The estimate of future warranty costs assumes that the recent product developments continue to reduce the warranty support necessary from that in previous periods.

Valuation of lease liabilities and right-of-use assets

The application of IFRS 16 requires the Company to make judgments that affect the valuation of the lease liabilities and the valuation of right-of-use assets. These include: determining contracts in scope of IFRS 16, determining the contract term and determining the interest rate used for discounting of future cash flows. The present value of the lease payments have been determined using the Company's incremental borrowing rate.

Accounting standards, interpretations and amendments to published accounts

The Company considered the implications, if any, of the following amendments to IFRSs during the year ended 31 December 2023.

New and amended standards and interpretations effective from 1 January 2023 adopted by the company

During the year ended 31 December 2023, the Company has not adopted any new IFRS, IAS or amendments issued by the IASB, and interpretations by the IFRS Interpretations Committee, which have been adopted in the United Kingdom.

New and amended standards and interpretations effective from 1 January 2024 not yet adopted by the company

The company currently adopts all relevant accounting standards that have been endorsed by and adopted in the UK. There are various standards that are expected to be endorsed in 2024. The company believes these standards will have no material impact on the financial statements.

The company's exposure to credit risk arises from its trading related receivables and cash deposits with financial institutions.

The Group's credit policy for trading related receivables is applied and managed by each local operation to ensure compliance. The policy requires that the creditworthiness and financial strength of customers is assessed at inception and on an on-going basis. The company uses external credit checking agencies as well as undertaking its own internal reviews of customer finances. Large Customer accounts where credit risk is deemed significant to the Company are managed at director level.

The Company's maximum exposure to credit risk is summarised below:

	2023 £000's	2022 £000's

The material foreign currency denominated costs, include the purchase of components from low cost based countries, principally in US dollars.

Financial instruments

For measurement purposes IAS39 requires financial assets and liabilities to be classified into four categories, held at fair value through profit and loss, available for sale, loans and receivables or held to maturity. The first two categories are measured at fair value and the last two are measured at amortised cost.

Financial liabilities are to be classified into two categories, at fair value through profit and loss and other financial liabilities. The liabilities measured at fair value include liabilities held for trading such as derivatives and short term profit taking activities.
