The government has introduced a number of policies to assist tire companies 2018 is coming to an end. Many tire people sighed and said that they felt that the past year was not very good.

This year, affected by many factors, domestic tire companies have experienced severe tests, in order to survive and develop can be described as exhausted.

At the same time, local governments have also introduced a variety of "bailout" policies in order to maintain the long-term stable development of enterprises and alleviate economic pressure.

Promote the high-end development of the tire industry

On October 10, Shandong Province issued the "Implementation Plan on Accelerating the High-quality Development of Seven High-energy-consuming Industries", which includes the continuous transformation and upgrading of the tire industry.

The local government hopes that by 2020, the overall production capacity of Shandong Tire will remain basically unchanged, and four tire companies with annual output more than 4 billion yuan will appear.

At the same time, they will also rank tire companies according to indicators such as energy consumption, efficiency, per mu contribution, technical evaluation standards, and promote the survival of the fittest in the industry.

In order to promote the high-end development of the tire industry, the local government can be described as racking its brains.

Industry insiders said that tire companies that survived this reshuffle will go through the "labor pain period" and directly move towards the road of high-quality development. Rectify chemical parks in various places

Under the background of environmental protection, the rectification of chemical parks in various places has been launched one after another.

In March 2018, Wang Shujian, vice governor of Shandong Province, said it would strive to reduce the number of chemical parks to less than 3 and close another on the current basis.

In June, September and October, Shandong Province announced the list of chemical parks in three batches.

Coastal chemical parks (concentrated areas) in Jiangsu Province also began disposal in June.

All chemical parks in the province's Nantong, Lianyungang and Yancheng cities have entered the disposal list.

Recently, entering the chemical park has become the choice of many tire companies.

The view of these companies is that as long as they enter the chemical park, it means they will not be shut down.

It is reported that after settling in the chemical park where the rectification has been completed, these enterprises have stood under the "umbrella".

Production restrictions are no longer "one-size-fits-all"

In early November, Shandong, Jiangsu, Shanxi, Hebei, Tianjin and other provinces and cities announced the details of peak production in the heating season.

Environmental protection avoids "one-size-fits-all", which has become the consensus of environmental protection departments everywhere.

Compared with the complete shutdown of tire companies last year, since 2018, the operating rate of enterprises has not decreased significantly in the heating season.

Since November 17, the export rebate rate for the products has been raised from 22% to 27%.

Affected by Sino-US trade frictions, the foreign demand market continued to weaken, and the export trade of China's tire products was not optimistic.

It is reported that Jiangsu General Technology Co., Ltd. benefited from the export tax rebate dividend, increasing the export tax rebate by more than 1500 million

Of course, some enterprises believe that the benefits of export tax rebates are limited.

According to reports, their incoming processing trade accounts for a considerable proportion, and their export tax rebates are no longer refundable.

Vigorously solve financing difficulties

On November 11, Xi Jinping, General Secretary of the CPC Central Committee, President of the People's Republic of China, and Chairman of the Central Mi presided over a symposium on private enterprises and delivered an important speech.

Xi Jinping pointed out that it is necessary to reduce the burden of enterprises and reduce the cost of enterprises.

Since then, in response to the call, local governments have continuously introduced burden-reducing policies in terms of electricity consumption, financing, I fees, and institutional transactions.

The most important thing is to help tire companies solve the problem of financing difficulties.

In 2018, the Shandong Provincial Taxation Bureau and the financial sector promoted "bank-tax interaction" and cooperated to issue a total of 3,85 loans worth 60

In addition, the People's Bank of China and relevant departments have issued a series of measures to strictly prohibit blind withdrawal of loans.

It is foreseeable that in the next few years, tax reduction and burden reduction will still be the focus of local governments.

Tens of billions of funds to help tide over difficulties

In order to vigorously promote the development of the private economy, Shandong, Jiangxi, Zhejiang, Anhui and other provinces and cities have set up tens of assist private enterprises.

On November 11, Shandong set up a capital market bailout fund with a total scale of 15 billion yuan to help private enterprises tide over financial difficulties.

On November 11, Jiangxi established the State-owned Innovation and Development Fund to support private enterprises.

During the same period, Anhui also set up a rescue fund for private enterprises with a scale of more than 100 billion yuan to provide necessary financial assistance enterprises.
