Longjiang Industrial Park was built in 2007. It is a comprehensive industrial park developed by Zhejiang Qianjiang Investment Management Co., Ltd. in China. It is also one of the 13 national-level economic and trade cooperation zones in China. It is the first Chinese-owned industrial park in Vietnam, is also a key project of the "Belt and Road" construction in Zhejiang Province.

Location Advantage. The park is located in Xinfu County, Tien Giang Province in southern Vietnam, close to Zhongliang Expressway, 50 kilometers away from Ho Chi Minh City Center, Tan Son Nhat International Airport, and Saigon Port International Container Terminal. The transportation is convenient and the logistics cost is low. Ho Chi Minh City, where the park is based, is a traditional port city for international cargo transportation, and it is very convenient for cargo to reach the world by sea.

Ho Chi Minh City is also the 2-hour air freight center of China-ASEAN economic circle, and the flights to Guangzhou, Hong Kong, Singapore, Bangkok, Kuala Lumpur, Jakarta, Phnom Penh and other China-ASEAN countries are all about 2 hours away, which has obvious location advantages.

Construction subject. The domestic construction subject of the park is Zhejiang Qianjiang Investment Management Co., Ltd., which was established in 2007. It is an enterprise engaged in overseas investment jointly established by many well-known Chinese enterprises. The registered capital is 100 million yuan. The enterprise invests in Vietnam The $800 million construction of Longjiang Industrial Park in Vietnam is one of the largest projects invested by China in Southeast Asia.

Industrial Development. The park is a comprehensive industrial park, the main industries include electronics, machinery, electrical products, light industry, textile industry, building materials and packaging.

infrastructure. The power supply capacity of Longjiang Industrial Park is 40MVA. There are Xinxiang Power Station and My Tho Power Station nearby. The total power consumption of enterprises in the area only accounts for 20% of the total power (about 8MVA). In the future, as the demand for power consumption increases, Longjiang Industrial Park will have its own power station with a power supply capacity of 189MVA (3 units x 63MVA). The water supply capacity of the industrial park is currently 5,000 cubic meters per day, but the actual usage is relatively low at 540 cubic meters, accounting for only 10.8% of the total water supply capacity. The communication facilities have 4000 IDD telephone lines and are equipped with broadband network. The sewage discharge of enterprises in the area must meet the TCVN6982:2001 standard before being discharged to the drainage system outside the area. The capacity of the sewage treatment
