

Annex 6 – Summary of publications

The applicants have provided to the Trade Remedies Authority in confidence various publications (subject to copyright) showing falling prices of subject materials:

- SP Global article dated 31 May 2021: “Asian HRC steel rises on stronger Chinese market”, mentioning falling prices of Russian and Iranian material
- SP Global article dated 20 January 2022: “Brazil's slowing demand to limit steel pricing in 2022”, stating that Brazilian prices are expected to decrease in 2022 for several reasons; and that prices already fell in H2 2021
- SP Global article dated 19 November 2021: “Brazil domestic HRC tumbles on market oversupply pressure”, discussing price decreases
- SP Global articles dated 20 April 2022 “Black Sea flat steel exports slow down as prices keep sliding” and dated 11 May 2022: “Russian Black Sea flats export prices plunge on new offers, buyer pressure”, discussing declines of Russian flats export prices in the Black Sea
- SP Global articles dated 15 March 2022 “EU fresh ban on Russian steel seen affecting 4 million mt of rolled products”, discussing sales of Russian exporters to the EU
- SP Global articles dated 22 April 2022 “EU plate market stable in North on low spot allocations, South softens”, referencing cheap imports from Iran
- Several SP Global articles dated in May 2022 discussing very steep declines in Russian export prices and the inability of the Russian home market to buy the previously exported quantities.
- Steel BB article dated 29 November 2021 “NLMK Lipetsk to raise HRC output with reheating furnace upgrade”, discussing NLMK’s capacity upgrades.