- in case the lubricants are manufactured by a third party, require and ensure that this third party complies with the quality requirements for blending included in the ATIEL Code of Practice.

For lubricants that are developed and manufactured by third parties for marketing under its own aforementioned brand(s), The Company remains solely responsible for compliance defined in this letter. In this respect, The Company undertakes to:

- require and ensure that the third parties that are involved in the development process or parts thereof do apply the EELQMS guidelines and the guidelines of the ATIEL Code of Practice, and preferably have signed the lubricant marketers' Letter of Conformance themselves.
- require and ensure that the third parties that are involved in manufacturing or blending processes comply with the quality requirements for blending included in the ATIEL Code of Practice.

The commitments referred to in this letter will be valid for the calendar year of the registration. The Company is entitled to withdraw from its EELQMS commitments at any time prior to that date, by registered letter to SAIL. Re-validation of the participation in the EELQMS is possible for each subsequent calendar year via SAIL on the basis of the standard Letter of Conformance applicable at that time.

The Company mandates ATIEL to:

- include its company name in the List of Participants in the EELQMS which will be made available by ATIEL to any interested party and published on the SAIL website (www.sail-europe.eu).

The Company agrees that:

The Company is solely responsible for compliance with the obligations defined in this letter. It must not assert, in any way, that any of its automotive lubricants or related products qualify under the ACEA Oil Sequences, unless all tests and analyses of such products carried out prove that they merit the claimed qualifications of the ACEA Oil Sequences and have been performed in strict compliance with and observance of all applicable or relevant procedures.
