TRQ review

In conducting this TRQ review, the TRA will consider whether there has been a change in circumstances since the application of the relevant tariff rate quota (see below). As part of the review, the TRA may consider:

- Whether the amount or allocation of the TRQ is appropriate for domestic market conditions;
- The desirability of maintaining, as far as possible, traditional trade flows;
- Any other factors that it considers relevant.

Change in circumstances

The TRA will review trade data on category 4 to determine if there has been a change of circumstances which corresponds with the provisions in regulation 35B(9)(f) of The Trade Remedies (Increase in Imports Causing Serious Injury to UK Producers) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (the Regulations).

The TRA has seen data which indicates that the import levels from a certain developing country have changed since the application of the measure. The TRA is now reviewing this data to determine whether the list of developing countries not currently excepted from the application of the tariff rate quotas should be amended.

Scope of the review

Section B – Comments on the application, on the expansion of the matters to be considered (referred to in the Notice of Initiation) and/or proposed intended final determination

B1. Please use the box to comment on this TRQ review:

The wider UK steel industry had no other choice than to buy from Turkey due to the extremely short notice of Category 4 15% cap to ‘residual countries’ from 1st July 2025. This caused serious injury to the UK steel market and ports which stalled any potential demand increases and left the market unwilling to buy from ‘quota-sensitive’ routes. Turkey was seen as a ‘non-sensitive’ option due to DCE status, on a short lead time to replace the shortfalls appearing from residual countries cap and to keep downstream production going. Plus, other advantages Turkey offers ie. EAF produced steel, short sailing times, large production range and grades.

Further reasons and supporting evidence are displayed in our confidential file.
